

CELEBRATE BASTILLE DAY AT BLYTHSWOOD SQUARE

Scotland's Little Sparrow, award winning Christine Bovill, fresh from her two sell out nights at The Tron brings her show PIAF to Blythswood Square for an exclusive Bastille Night Celebration on Friday 15th July.

Frail and tiny, no gimmicks, no pretence, Edith Piaf's voice is majestic. She sings of life's triumphs and tragedies. Christine enjoyed great acclaim for her show which focuses almost exclusively on Piaf's music. Her performance is a stunning musical homage and provides an insight into the essence of Piaf, the much-revered French star.

Christine Bovill said: "Piaf's life was as dark as her iconic black dress, however Piaf the show will expose the colour and hope in spite of it all. I am thrilled to perform at Blythswood Square."

To complement the fabulous music, Robert Hood, Executive Chef at Blythswood Square, has created a menu to suit the occasion. The evening looks set to be one of the highlights on the hotels exclusive calendar of events.

Tickets for the Bastille Night Celebration at Blythswood Square are priced at £70 per person and includes a glass of fizz on arrival, specially created three course French menu, French wine with dinner, and the exclusive performance by Christine Bovill.
