

A ROMANTIC VALENTINE'S BREAK THAT WILL LAST FOR YEARS

If you're looking for a special way to spoil your loved one, why not treat them to a Valentine's break with The Town House Collection. This year, the luxury hotel group has teamed up with Trees 4 Scotland to create a romantic break with a difference – offering guests the chance to help restore Scotland's native woodlands.

Each time a couple books a 'Seeds of Love' Valentine's breaks at The Bonham – Edinburgh's most stylish boutique hotel – or the 5-star Blythswood Square in Glasgow, a tree will be planted in the Teaghlach Wood, near Comrie in the Scottish Highlands.

The 'Seeds of Love' break offers the chance for an unforgettable night in a uniquely beautiful setting. But your love will be reflected in a legacy that lasts much longer, as your small piece of Scotland's natural heritage grows for years to come. There's no better way to demonstrate your everlasting love.

The romantic Seeds of Love break includes

- Luxury accommodation in an individually designed bedroom
- Bottle of Champagne and chocolate dipped strawberries in your room on arrival
- Rose petal in-room breakfast with a glass of Bucks Fizz
- Use of the Thermal Experience in the Spa (Blythswood Square only)

The Seeds of Love break at Blythswood Square is priced from £243 per room per night, based on two adults sharing a Classic bedroom from the 10th – 19th February.

The Seeds of Love break at The Bonham is priced from £188 per room per night, based on two adults sharing a double bedroom from the 10th – 19th February.

For further information visit www.thetownhousecollection.com

-ends-

Further information:

Elaine Howie PR Ltd.

0131-622 3113

laura@elainehowiepr.co.uk

Notes to editors:

- To find out more about the woodland and Trees4Scotland visit www.trees4scotland.com